INTRODUCTION

Sometimes you just need the right words.

Some days prayer comes easily. On other days, your mind is full or you struggle to find the words. A simple sentence can help you pause and turn your attention to God: I receive wisdom. The Lord is my strength. My heart is at peace.

This book brings together 770 short affirmations and prayers across fifteen areas of everyday life. You can speak them over your thoughts, relationships, work, purpose and the people in your care. Each chapter offers words you can return to in different seasons.

Speak with understanding and faith. Let the words express your trust in God, your hope for the future and the character you are growing in. Allow each affirmation to become the beginning of a personal prayer.

Choose a chapter that meets your present need. Read a few lines slowly, say them aloud and give yourself time to reflect. You can use one affirmation throughout the day or return to several during your time of prayer.

Let your words lead to wise choices. Practise patience, receive good counsel, care for others and take the next faithful step. As you return to these pages, may your faith, words and actions grow together.

How to use this book

Start where you are. Choose the chapter that meets your present season. You do not have to begin with Chapter One.

Speak slowly. These words are meant to be said, prayed and understood. Give yourself time to hear what you are saying.

Make the words personal. When a declaration touches something specific in your life, turn it into your own prayer.

Let prayer lead to action. Ask for wisdom, then take the wise step that is yours to take.

Come back often. A declaration you need today may be different from the one you need next month.
